RETURNS:

The following items were RETURNED by the Laurel Office:

Elena di Salaparuta. Change of device. Vert, a gillyflower and on a chief Or three bunches of grapes purpure. Unfortunately, the Laurel Office decided that the depiction of the gillyflower was too far from period depictions of these flowers to be identifiable and returned the device for redrawing.

Elena di Salaparuta. Badge. Per bend sinister Or and vert, a bunch of grapes bendwise sinister purpure and a gillyflower Or. Unfortunately, the Laurel Office decided that the depiction of the gillyflower was too far from period depictions of these flowers to be identifiable and returned the device for redrawing.

PENDS:

The following items were PENDED by the Laurel Office:

Dafydd Balch de Cantref Blaidd. Device. Per pale Or and purpure, two wolf's heads erased addorsed and conjoined and in base two axes addorsed all counterchanged sable and argent, a bordure embattled sable. Unfortunately, through a typographical error that Golden Dolphin did not correct quickly enough part, the College of Arms thought the bordure was argent and so the Laurel Office pended device until September, 2005, for further conflict checking.

Jacquette Beamonte. New device. Per pale vert and purpure, a chevron dovetailed between two wolf's heads erased and a horse rampant argent. The Laurel Office interpreted the purpure portion of the field as sable so pended this until September, 2005, for further conflict checking. As this was an incorrect interpretation, this submission has already been withdrawn and resubmitted on the May, 2005, Letter of Intent from Atlantia with forms that use a very purple purpure.

Your servant,

Alisoun
