Unto the populace of Atlantia, greetings from Alisoun MacCoul of Elphane, Golden Dolphin Herald!

The following items were RETURNED by the Laurel Office:

Mariana de Valencia. Name. The name was returned for conflict with the registered name of Marina de Valencia.

Otel Altunat. Household name for the Clockmakers' Guild. The Laurel Office declined to register the proposed household name, declaring it a "generic identifier" and thus ineligible for registration.

Sébastien de Valmont. Name. The name was returned for conflict with the character Sébastien de Valmont in the film Dangerous Liaisons, saying "The theatrical phenomena of Dangerous Liaisons and the recognizability of its main male villain means that the character is worthy of protection. While it is unclear whether Sebastien is the given name of the character in the original novel, the popular adaptations make the form with this given name worthy of protection."

The following item was PENDED by the Laurel Office:

Otel Altunat. Badge. Sable, a saltire, overall on a lozenge argent a cogwheel vert. The armory had been blazoned on the Atlantian Letter of Intent as “Sable, on a saltire nowy quadrate argent, a cogwheel vert.” The Laurel Office reblazoned this on technical grounds because of the specific angle in the “nowing” of the saltire and pended it as a result until the Laurel meetings of October, 2007, to allow for further conflict checking by the College of Arms.

Your servant,

Alisoun
