RETURNS

The following item has been RETURNED by the Laurel Office:

Cnes ingen Conchobuir. Name. The Laurel Office returned the name because they ruled that, since the only instances of the name Cnes occurring in annals that mention the mother of a saint in the early sixth century and the language spoken at that time would be “Oghamic Irish” the name would have to be registered using the “Oghamic Irish” form of the name, commenting “The name would be registerable in an Oghamic Irish form, but we have no information about what that form would be. Given this, the name Cnes is not registerable, and so we are forced to return this name.”

Your servant,

Alisoun
